

Forum rules of engagement

A forum is a place to share knowledge and resources, ask others for advice, or read a topic of interest. While our forums are geared towards healthcare providers, older adults and their family are very welcome to participate.

We ask that you respect the rules of engagement:

- ✓ Be helpful! Post content that will help others provide senior friendly care for older adults. The forum is not a place to discuss personal issues or grievances.
- ✓ Respect confidentiality! Do not breach PHIPA by sharing details about patients.
- ✓ No sales pitches! Do not use this platform to advertise products or services or link to sites for sales purposes.
- ✓ Respect copyrights! Do not post any copyrighted material.
- ✓ Do due diligence! We do not guarantee the accuracy or reliability of any material posted in the forums, nor endorse any opinions expressed in these areas. Your reliance on forum content is solely at your own risk and we encourage users to seek independent verification of the information provided.

Please note that administrators and moderators of our forums have the right to delete any post that is not considered appropriate.
